What No One Told Me About Sex

PAUL SHI, THE NEXT GENERATION

Music and movies disciple us on sex. These movies do not even need to be sexually explicit for them to frame our values and understanding of sexual intimacy. The subtle message of these movies teaches that sex is nothing more than a physical activity, like one would play tennis or go for a run.

These ideas are reinforced with songs like The Bad Touch by Bloodhound Gang which sings: 'You and me baby ain't nothin' but mammals so let's do it like they do on the Discovery Channel', exchanging our human identity as image bearers of God with 'nothing but mammals'. These seemingly harmless lyrics pegged to a catchy tune is the kind of 'discipling' that glorifies sexual promiscuity, and gives reason why this kind of lifestyle ought to be pursued. It teaches that there's nothing wrong with sexual promiscuity, there are no consequences, everyone is doing it, and if you are a virgin by a particular age you should be ashamed of that.

Last week we learnt from 1 Corinthians 6:13 that '... the body is not for immorality, but for the LORD, and the LORD is for the body' (NASB). The implication here is that there is a created, designated purpose for our bodies; they are for the Lord! The implication is when we engage in sexual immorality, there are detrimental impacts on our body. This is true not just because the Bible says so; science also affirms this.

In a secular article in The Journal of Sex Research, Sacramento State University psychologist, Melina Bersamin, studied the sexual activity of 3,900 students over 30 campuses across different ethnic and social backgrounds as well as their well-being. This study found that those who engaged in casual sexual hook-ups reported lower levels of self-esteem, life-satisfaction and happiness compared to those who have not had casual sex in the past month. They also scored higher distress levels as indicated by scoring higher in depression and anxiety.

There are more researches in the area of pre-marital sex, divorce rates, well-being, and marital satisfaction which attest to the truth that the body is for the Lord. Viewing our bodies as created and hardwired emotionally, physically and psychologically for the Lord beckons us to live according to this truth.

Last Week's Sermon Summary

Mind Your Body

SCRIPTURE: 1 CORINTHIANS 6:12-20 • SERMON: REV TAN KAY KIONG

Introduction

Mind your language – Mind the gap – Mind your own business – Mind your body!

Two fundamental truths to mind our body:

A. Our Body Is for the Lord (v.13a)

1. The Apostle Paul declares unapologetically the purpose of body in 1 Corinthians 6:13a. It is not meant for sexual immorality but for the Lord. Some of us may ask: Isn't this obvious? Apparently not! Back in the Corinthians' day, there were two camps trapped in their own fallacies:

I call one camp Super Carnal Christian who believe that the body is not spiritual, so it doesn't matter what we do with our physical body. We are created body, soul and spirit.

I call the other camp Super Deprived Christian who believe that the spiritual person should avoid sex, and that celibacy is better and more spiritual than marriage. They ruled out one of God's greatest gift to mankind – sex. Sex is God's idea!

2. Paul's first counter argument to the Super Carnal Christian is found in 1 Corinthians 6:15,19: “Your bodies are members of Christ ... Your body is the Temple of the Holy Spirit.” For it has been bought with the precious blood of Jesus. Therefore, glorify God in your body! Application: Deal decisively with sexual immorality. We declare war on pornography! We will use the “Conquer Series” and “Every Women's Battle”.
3. His second counter is for the Super Deprived Christian: They got it wrong! 1 Corinthians 7:1-7. Sex is meant for protection in the marriage. We are to fulfill our marital duty. Sex is sacred and spiritual. Application: Reminders for husbands and wives. “Sex apart from marriage has a way of weakening future relationships.” – Wiersbe

B. The Lord Is for the Body (vv.13b-14)

1. We have a divine power to get out from our sin and corruption. As God raised Christ from the tomb; he will raise us from our sins. This is our greatest hope and assurance in the power of God's resurrection.
2. But how come we are not able to break away from our bondage (i.e. pornography)? What we do with the mind and body has severe consequences on the soul and spirit! Researchers discovered that addiction (whether alcohol addiction, gambling addiction or porn addiction) causes the brain to rewire, and the release of pleasure hormones in the body makes it very difficult to break away from the sinful activity. Read “Beyond Accountability” by Nate Larkin to understand the difficulty of breaking from pornography.

Conclusion

Jesus' death on the cross has removed the guilt and the shame!
